Super Duck Duck In The Super Duck was a comic book character created in 1943 for what was then MLJ Comics by staff artist Al Fagaly. As his name implies, Super Duck was originally a parody of Superman, even down to a red and blue costume. But his time as a superhero was short, and by late 1944 his stories became more conventional, in the Disney/Carl Barks mode. Super Duck Comics ran from 1944 – 1960, featuring "Super Duck, the Cockeyed Wonder" in his most familiar attire: a black shirt, red lederhosen and often an ...

Super DuckTales is a serial of five DuckTales episodes, and a part of the second season. It originally aired on March 26, 1989 as a 2-hour television movie on The Magical World of Disney, and served as the introduction to Fenton Crackshell and his alter-ego Gizmoduck. The movie version had minor edits and cuts, and the full stand-alone episodes premiered in October 1989.

Super Duck, a now-public-domain non-Disney character tranparently based on Donald Duck, appeared in the crossover comic Howard the Duck and Donald Duck in November of 2014. Super Duck was originally created as a superhero - hence his name - who'd take pills to gain great strenght. However, his comic quickly lost this focus and became very similar to Carl Barks' duck comics.

He calls down a bolt of lightning that transforms him from an angel into a duck. A super duck, yes, but you ' d think he ' d do a better job of rescuing his beloved if he had opposable thumbs. The only reason I can think of for this transformation is that a duck, being an animal, is incapable of sin and can therefore enter Hell without being condemned to eternal suffering.
